

Antonella Barba

Manager, Public Relations

Antonella, a former American Idol contestant, has had her share of media attention, gathering more votes than some presidential campaigns. As a young and rising star, she promotes ElectionMall.com at trade shows, conventions, and is the spokesperson for ElectionMall.com's newest launch VoterSpace.com. Antonella believes that young voters matter. Much of her time is spent on voter registration drives and absentee ballot initiatives.

Now a recent graduate of Catholic University, Antonella wants the next generation of voters to participate in democracy via technology. As a first time voter herself in 2008, Antonella is reaching out to audiences and empowering voters and candidates through ElectionMall.com's powerful products and services.
