

Donald L. Harmison

Director of Technology

Don has championed e-democracy technology by establishing several political applications in over 800 + campaign websites during his career. He has been with ElectionMall.com since 2004 and helped manage the technology during two presidential elections cycles and for over 22 political parties. Internationally, he has worked with teams in Malaysia, Mexico, Spain, Russia, Poland, India, Canada, and most recently established our European team in Brussels, Belgium. Don manages the research and development team while overseeing daily implementation and maintenance. Don is knowledgeable in Microsoft, Google, and Linux applications. He has worked with several top internet companies integrating online fundraising applications and viral get out the vote applications.

Don has made joint presentations with the CEO at the Campaigns and Elections Seminars in Washington, DC, and Los Angeles, California. He has his foot print in the technology sector by launching the first online ticketing system to be integrated into political campaigns, pioneering branded social networking system for campaigns, and integrating Google Maps for the Iowa Straw Poll in 2008.

Don resides in Maryland and holds a BS in Computer Information Systems from DeVry University
